

PEKING REVIEW

8

February 20, 1976

北
京
周
報

Open-Door Scientific Research

Combines — State Capitalist Monopolies
Wearing a "Soviet" Tag

Revolution Promotes Production

— Fourfold rise in a decade for a small city's industry]

PEKING REVIEW

北京月报

Vol. 19, No. 8 February 20, 1976

Published in English, French, Spanish,
Japanese and German editions

CONTENTS

THE WEEK	3
Acting Premier Hua Kuo-feng Meets Special Envoy Maloum Chairman Hill and Vice-Chairman Bull Visit China Guests From Federal Republic of Germany
ARTICLES AND DOCUMENTS
Open-Door Scientific Research.—Achievements of a scientific research institute China's Science and Technology Grow Apace	4 6
Revolution Promotes Production—Fourfold rise in a decade for Shashih's industry	8
Western Han Landlord Class Went From Opposing to Revering Confucianism— Criticism of Tung Chung-shu who trumpeted the doctrines of Confucius and Mencius—Hsueh Li-szu	11
Facts and Figures: Disastrous Consequences of Capitalist Restoration in the Soviet Union	15
Combines—State Capitalist Monopolies Wearing a "Soviet" Tag	18
New Tsars Intensify Expansion and Penetration in Latin America—A commentary by Hsinhua Correspondent	20
ROUND THE WORLD	21
Italy: Against Layoff United States: Students' Struggle Soviet Social-Imperialists: Why Invoke Dead Souls? Bangladesh: Talks With India on Border Incidents East Timor: Valiantly Fighting Against Indonesian Invaders
ON THE HOME FRONT	23
Progress in Oceanographic Studies Solar Energy Used in Lhasa Fish Breeding on City Outskirts	